It's a very concise and well-executed game that gets a lot of variety out of its central mechanic in an elegant fashion. High degree of replayability, good boss fights with a strong Treasure influence.

grab a copy, grab a controller, grab a keyboard! Grab things and hurl them across the room!. It's ok and playable, ugly and clunky but not as much as some other old apogee games. Super frustrating, but super fun. I played through this with a friend in a few hours. It was shorter than I was expecting it to be, but I was okay with that by the end of it because my friend and I were ready to kill each other. Overall it was a good time!. During the first hour I felt there wasn't much to this game. I almost put it down and cut my losses. However, I kept playing knowing that the game was progressing quickly. To my surprise some of the latter puzzles were VERY CHALLENGING. A few of them were quite mind bending. This game certainly made my head hurt. I'm glad I'd stuck with it.. If you are looking for a chill out without violence and demanding actions it is for you.

After aprox 1.5 of a gameplay:

Video 4.5/5

Music 5/5

Sound (human voice) 3.5/5

Gameplay 4/5

This is not subnautica, it's not an action game. This game allows you to slowly dive into peaceful ocean's world focusing on exploring. If you are looking for a relax without violent and stupid action just try it.

I like physics of the swimming, but I really don't like how often predators are interested in you. Please add option to change frequency of predators attacks. I really do not want to see it as an action game, do not like if I met shark every 5 minutes. I want to focus on exploring.

This game is really good and has rly big potential.

Simple and fun. Cool voice at the beginning of the levels, I advise to purchase!. The Next Door is an easy game to review because it has no substance. It is an aberration that is desperately striving to be abstraction. The only tangible thought one can come away with after experiencing it is just how poorly a video game can be made. Listing the flaws of The Next Door could indeed be a game in and of itself; incredibly uncomplicated puzzles, nauseating music that resounds in cursory loops, terribly designed and piercingly bright areas that burn out your retinae, awful player movement and interaction, the worst optimization imaginable and it takes thirty minutes to complete, due to the harsh content however, this is a blessing.

The Next Door will be forgotten quicker than it ends as you laugh and move onto the next game.

2V10. It could be a lot better if the graphic is better.. one of the coolest teams.. I saw this game on Kongregate and was obsessed over Christmas break, once I realized there was a steam version I immediately purchased it. It's a great game with 100 levels to go through. Great price too.. This game is absolutely amazing. Sure, it doesn't have Killing Floor gamemode, but besides that everything is just as fun as you would expect a Killing Floor VR game to be. The campaign is interesting and quite fun.
